9. The ninth part of the document is a list of figures and tables. It provides a detailed description of each figure and table, including the data presented and the conclusions drawn from the analysis. This section is particularly useful for researchers and students who are interested in the specific details of the data and the analysis. It allows them to quickly find the information they need and to understand the results of the study in more detail.

10. The tenth part of the document is a list of appendices. It provides a detailed description of each appendix, including the data presented and the conclusions drawn from the analysis. This section is particularly useful for researchers and students who are interested in the specific details of the data and the analysis. It allows them to quickly find the information they need and to understand the results of the study in more detail.

11. The eleventh part of the document is a list of references. It provides a list of the academic sources cited in the study, including books, journal articles, and online resources. This section is essential for providing context and supporting the research findings. It also allows other researchers to locate and access the original sources of the information used in the study.

The main body of the document is a highly degraded and noisy table. The text is illegible due to heavy horizontal and vertical streaks and noise. The table structure is difficult to discern, but it appears to have multiple columns and rows. Some faint, illegible text is visible in the upper left quadrant, possibly including a title or header information. The overall appearance is that of a severely corrupted or low-quality scan of a data table.
